

THE CAMDEN CHRONICLE.

VOL. XLIII. NO. 21.

CAMDEN, TENNESSEE.

NOVEMBER 24, 1911

DIED IN TEXAS.

[Bentonville (La.) Record.]

The sad tidings of the untimely death of Mrs. T. C. Harrison (nee Miss Cora Loe) which occurred at Boerne, Tex., early last Sunday night, has cast a feeling of gloom and sorrow over our community, where she had spent her happy girlhood, and from whence she departed a few short months back a hopeful bride.

Happily mated, but with the shadow of the dread tuberculosis falling upon the nuptial hour, she had sought a distant home in the hope of prolonging life and clinging to the sunshine that had come to enliven and glorify her future years. But the ominous shadow followed, to soon envelop her, and shut out forever all earthly happiness.

She had here many friends and companions who will treasure her memory in common with the sister, who, a few short years ago, fell a victim to the same dread malady as she, too, had just crossed the border land of woman's mystic estate. And to dear old Tom, her sadly bereaved husband, we extend all sympathy in his loss, the greatest that may befall a man, when love lies dead amid the wreck and ruin of life's most treasured ideals.

An Endorsement.

Editor THE CHRONICLE:

I cheerfully endorse the publication in the last issue of The Chronicle by Drs. McGill, Hudson, Hicks and Barker of this city. Age and ill health has put me down and out of the game, but I love the profession of medicine and my friends—the doctors—and desire they receive their just dues, and I have a warm spot in my breast for those whose misfortune compel them to employ a physician. Sickness in the family is the greatest calamity that befalls man.

Doctor's fees in this county have always been too small—not half as high as in most other counties of the State—and the doctors have to do a great deal of work for small salary, and, as conditions are, they loose about half of that.

For forty years I was in regular harness and averaged two thousand dollars a year, and in the forty years I have lost over thirty thousand dollars I could not collect, and almost every day I see able men walking our streets who have cheated me out of my living.

Doctors are kind, charitable and prompt in service, and I believe all their patrons will or ought to pay them promptly.

R. B. TRAVIS.

Farmers' School.

The attention of our farmer readers is again called to the splendid short course in agriculture to be held in Jackson December 4-16 under the direction of the College of Agriculture of the University of Tennessee. This is an unusual opportunity for the farmers of West Tennessee, and Benton County especially, to receive practical instruction and help in their work. Field crops, soil fertility, deep tillage, feeds and feeding, live stock, and fruit and truck growing will be discussed and demonstrations will be given throughout the two weeks without charge. A large attendance of farmers is expected.

Wanted—You to try our famous "Leonte" Flour. Every barrel is guaranteed to please.

FINLEY'S.

POSTOAK.

Mrs. Rosa Blakely visited Mrs. Bettie Blakely Friday.

W. S. Wiseman made a flying trip to Garfield Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weatherly visited his mother Sunday.

John Bray of Holladay visited in this community Sunday.

G. C. Hudson visited the family of W. C. Hartley Saturday.

S. E. Davidson visited friends on Rushing's Creek Sunday.

V. A. Hartley visited his sister, Mrs. Era Hudson, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williamson visited J. H. Presson Sunday.

Mrs. Ila Davidson and children visited her mother, Mrs. S. A. Hudson, Sunday.

Miss Queen and Hugh Blakely were guests of Miss Rubie Williamson Sunday.

Robert and Lester Hudson and better-halves of Morris Chapel visited J. H. Hudson Sunday.

Zora Dell, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ward, and who had been ill only a few days, died last Thursday night of membranous croup. Very few of the neighbors were aware of the seriousness of the child's illness until the night she died. The news of her sudden death cast a shadow of gloom over the entire community, for most of her short but happy life was spent among us, and every heart was touched with sympathy for the stricken ones, from whose fireside the light had fled.

For a little more than five bright, sunny years not only had Zora Dell been the joy and comfort of the home—now left empty and desolate—but her sweet, childish presence brought a wealth of sunshine and happiness into the lives of neighbors and friends. We feel the emptiness of human words in times of bitter sorrow. Yet He who "has borne our griefs and carried our sorrows" will comfort and sustain.

Rev. L. R. Watson was present and conducted the burial service at the cemetery Saturday afternoon. Loving hands tenderly laid the little form to rest, the somber sky and rustling of falling leaves being in accord with the solemn scene. Yet above all came the comforting thought that the gentle, sweet child was spared earth's cares and sorrows, and that her memory but forms another cord to draw her loved ones to the brighter home beyond.

CHERRY GROVE.

Miss Hallie McAuley has been visiting near Chalk Hill.

Wheeler Capps of Morris Chapel visited here Sunday afternoon.

Miss Ada Warren and brother attended church at Chalk Hill last Sunday.

Mrs. Lola O'Guinn was the guest of Mrs. Nannie Warren Monday forenoon.

Mrs. Zana Bradley of Camden visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Agnew, Sunday.

There seems to be some attraction for Carnot Kennon in the Cowell's Chapel community.

G. P. Baker and two daughters of Decatur County spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Warren.

Misses Lura and Addie Baker of Northford was accompanied by Miss Ada Warren to Camden on Saturday forenoon.

Mrs. Nannie Warren, who has been at Sulphur Springs the past few weeks on account of ill health, returned home Friday.

SAWYERS' MILL.

Bud Johnson of Rosser has been here on business.

Some damage resulted from the heavy rain last Friday.

John L. Douglas of Camden was here one day last week.

Mrs. Bertha Hollingsworth is very sick at this writing.

Mrs. Loucinda Douglas is no better, we regret to learn.

Lafayette Greer of Eva City visited Oscar Bell Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Stigall have been visiting Hiram Stigall.

Everybody is busy picking and hauling cotton and gathering corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey Hollingsworth visited the family of W. C. Ballard Sunday.

James Holland and family of Bee Branch visited the family of Rice Cole Sunday.

Obed Douglas has moved to the section houses and Clem Ballard has moved to the Weeks' place.

Now that there is a demand for rabbits we see many of the boys out with their guns and dogs on Sunday.

Mrs. W. A. Kennon, who resides near Paris, fell and broke her ankle, which is giving her a great deal of pain.

Miss Lola Vick, who has been teaching with four and five pupils several weeks, has dismissed school for awhile or until the children are no longer needed in the cotton fields.

HARMONS CREEK.

Dear Mr. Editor, if you will allow me the space I will give you a few items from this locality.

Royal Melton talks of leaving for Texas shortly.

Tom Garner was at Claud on business Saturday.

John Dillon visited a friend on Sulphur Creek Sunday.

Wyly Phifer was called to Clydeton on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phifer visited Henry Phifer Sunday.

Thanksgiving is near at hand. Who will supply the turkey?

George Phifer and John Dillon boast of their prowess as possum hunters. And there are others.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Phifer and little daughters, Misses Ida and Ethel, visited in Flatwoods Sunday.

Jesse Chester says he will not go to Henry Phifer's any more at night if they don't keep the wheelbarrow out of the path.

CLAUD.

Oscar Phifer and family visited relatives in Flatwoods Sunday.

Miss Leila Henson spent Saturday night with Miss Mary Hartley.

Edgar and Oliver Farmer were at Camden Friday of last week on business.

William Green of Humphreys County visited relatives near here last week.

James Holloman of Sulphur Springs was here visiting friends last week.

Mrs. Claud Wheatley and sister, Miss Jennie, of Luterton visited relatives here part of last week.

Mrs. Mary A. Melton and little grand daughter, Allie Corbitt, of Harmons Creek were here Monday.

R. E. Farmer and family will leave for Texas this week where they will make their future home.

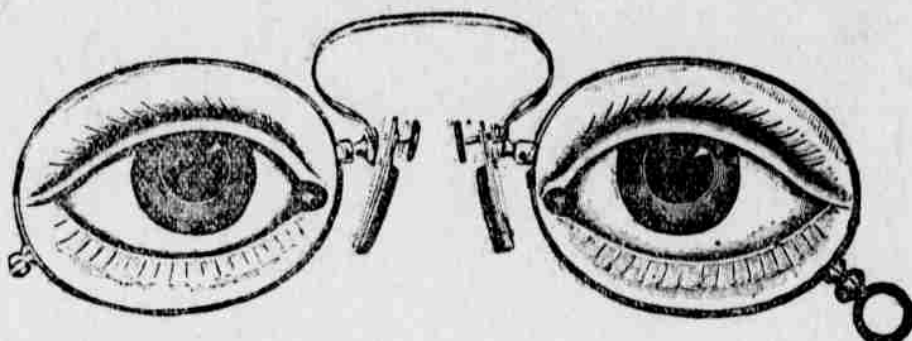

D. Benton of Point Mason was here last Saturday, and reported that his wife, who was struck with paralysis a few days ago, was still in a critical condition.

DR. D. GARFINKLE

THE FAMOUS

EYE SPECIALIST

OF NASHVILLE, TENN.

Is canvassing Benton County, and will try to see every one of his old friends and customers in regard to their eyes. He is well prepared to fix even the most complicated cases satisfactorily at a reasonable price. He will some day be to see you with Mr. J. E. Swindle as associate.

AFFIDAVIT

This is to certify that Dr. D. Garfinkle, the eye specialist of Nashville, has this day presented to me his State License for registration, which shows his qualification and competency as master of his profession and entitles him to lawfully practice Optometry in Benton County, Tennessee.

Camden, Tenn., November 13, 1911.

W. D. COOPER,
County Court Clerk

Spot Cash

PAID EVERY WEEK FOR

Stave Bolts Delivered at Lewis' Mill, Camden

$8.00 per cord for 36-inch White Oak Stave Bolts; $6.50 for Red Oak

$5.00 for Gum Blocks 38 inches long and not less than 6 inches at butt

A. BAIN & COM'Y

Our Great Fall

Club Offer

Good for a Short Time Only

Uncle Remus

(DIXIE'S GREAT MONTHLY)

Devoted to all that is dear to women. 50 to 60 pages, monthly

National Poultry Journal

Devoted to Practical Poultry Keeping in all its branches. 24 to 36 pages, monthly

The Southern Fruit Grower

Tells how to Grow Fruit Successfully. 32 to 40 pages, monthly

All of these great magazines and your own home paper

The Chronicle

For one year will be supplied for a short time for the low price of $1.50

Better send in your order today. Kindly send check or money order payable to

The Chronicle,

Camden, Tenn.